Golf all year round

You're concentrating on your drive on the first hole of the round. Surrounded by pine trees, you breathe in the incomparable array of fragrances of the Mediterranean woodland, you feel the warm rays of the sun, and in the distance you can hear the sound of the waves or even glimpse the blue horizon of this union between the earth and the sea known as the Costa Brava. If you close your eyes, you can relish a special sensation that no other place can offer you.

Costa Brava

While choosing the best position for teeing off, you think about the wide range of gastronomic options available to you later on in the day. You hit your drive, and as you watch the ball fly across the outline of the sun, you think how amazing it is that at any time of the year, with an average temperature of 16.5 °C, it's possible to enjoy such an exceptional spot where you're brought into contact with nature through your passion for golf.

Eight courses, eight different itineraries set around an incomparable geographical region: playing golf on the Costa Brava means being part of a unique and sharply-contrasted landscape which has inspired the greatest geniuses.

Your enjoyment of the round is guaranteed, wherever you play – Club de Golf Costa Brava, Empordà Golf Resort, Golf de Pals, Club de Golf Peralada, PGA Catalunya Golf & Wellness, Torremirona Golf Club, Club Golf d'Aro-Mas Nou and Par 3 Gualta–, by the natural beauty of the courses and the intelligence of their designers. Getting a good score, is all down to you. But the biggest prize is already reserved for you: The Costa Brava, a divine space.

Pirineu de Girona

One of the curiosities of this territory, the north-eastern corner of the Iberian Peninsula, is its equidistance between the Mediterranean and the Pyrenees. An hour's drive takes you from the blue of the Mare Nostrum to the lush green grass at the foot of the great Pyrenean monoliths. This diversity is one of the defining characteristics of the Girona region, manifesting its special personality: the union between sea and mountains, the meeting of water and stone, the marriage between snow and sand.

Fontanals Golf, Reial Club de Golf de Cerdanya and Club de Golf Camprodon create a dramatic setting for this challenging, thrilling sport.

The union between sea and mountains, the meeting of water and stone, the marriage between snow and sand.

Club de Golf Costa Brava

Member of

The 27-hole Club de Golf Costa Brava, founded in 1968 and designed by Hamilton Stutt, was recently expanded by Jorge Soler Fish and Eugenio Aguado with the addition of nine new holes. The two courses, one a par 70 and the other a par 73, blend into the stunning and exceptionally beautiful natural landscape.

The par-70 Green Course features a British design surrounded by centuries-old pine and oak trees. The first nine holes, technical with well-protected greens, provide a contrast to the back nine, played on gentle terrain with wide fairways where players can test the strength of their swing.

The 6,000-metre-long par-73 Red Course features six challenging water hazards that require players to choose their clubs wisely and measure distances well. This is an extremely varied course with four par-3s, nine par-4s and five par-5s that make use of every club in the bag.

Both courses finish next to the clubhouse, a traditional Catalan farmhouse that dates to 1841 and boasts a spectacular terrace with views over the 18th hole."

Club de Golf Peralada

Member of

The Club de Golf Peralada, with 18 holes and a total length of 6,070 m, is an ideal course for holding competitions of all levels or simply enjoying a pleasant, relaxing day. It is considered suitable for all players because its design adapts to various levels of play. The 18 holes are distributed into five par 3's, four par 5's and nine par 4's. They are divided into two itineraries of nine holes that start and finish at the clubhouse, the first being par 36 and the second par 35, making a total of par 71 for the whole course.

The design of the course shows great respect for the environment. It is the first course to obtain the European Union's EMAS Certification. It is located in the Peralada Resort, which also includes the wine cellars, the Castle, the Casino and, in the golf course itself, the Hotel Peralada Wine Spa & Golf with its own Wine Spa centre, the only one of its kind in Spain, which is based on therapy with derivatives of wine.

Club de Golf Peralada has a two-level driving range (one of them covered), golf school, pitch & putt, boutique gym and pro-shop selling all the latest trends in the sector.

Club Golf d'Aro-Mas Nou

Member of

From its prime location 300 metres above sea-level and surrounded by the Gavarres Natural Area, Club Golf d'Aro - Mas Nou in Platja d'Aro (Girona) offers players breathtaking panoramic views of the Costa Brava.

The course, designed by Ramón Espinosa in 1990, is a spectacular par 72 eighteen-hole and par 3 nine-hole championship course. The first part presents a gently undulating terrain, while the uneven surface of the second adds a little more technique to the game.

The course has been designed for the ambitious player who enjoys a challenge, especially those with low and medium handicaps, but also for less experienced golfers. We have been creative with the tees to test the skill and refined technique of the expert golfer, and have reduced the longer distances to help beginners with their game. The course is not unduly aggressive, with gentle rough, water hazards, bunkers that play a decisive role in the game and wide smooth greens, benefiting the putt.

Empordà Golf Resort

Member of

Regularly ranked among the best golf courses in Spain, Empordà Golf Resort features 36 holes on two courses. Architect Robert von Hagge's first project in Spain, the two courses have all the traditional characteristics associated with his designs, requiring players to use a wide variety of strokes and techniques to overcome the challenges they pose. The Links Course, reminiscent of many coastal golf courses in the UK and Ireland, unfurls among dunes, lakes and strategically placed bunkers throughout its 18 holes. This year the course is the venue for the Qualifying School of the European Tour. The Forest Course, in contrast, has a more Mediterranean feel as it winds its way between pine forests and lakes, offering protection from the wind. The golf facilities are complemented by the new Hotel Empordà Golf, overlooking the two courses and just five minutes from the Costa Brava's finest beaches and charming medieval villages.

Golf de Pals

Member of

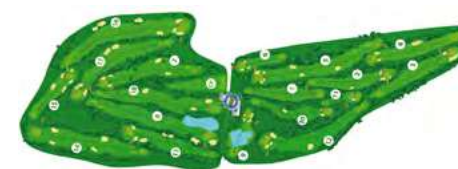

Those seeking tradition will find the perfect spot at Golf de Pals. Nestled within a large pine forest lies the Costa Brava's oldest golf course. The first holes are fairly short, with narrow fairways, slight dog-legs, very deep bunkers defending the greens and imposing pines dotted along all the fairways, obliging players to take the utmost care with their strokes. From the 12th onward, the holes are longer with a more continental style. The fairways open out, and the greens become more generous.

With five par 5, nine par 4 and four par 3 holes, Golf de Pals is one of the few par 73 courses in Catalonia.

Over the course of its more than fifty years of history, Golf de Pals has hosted numerous national and European amateur and professional tournaments. In fact, the PGA European Tour started at Golf de Pals, coinciding with the Spanish Open.

The breathtaking beauty of the location combined with its proximity to the sea make Golf de Pals an attractive course for all kinds of players, from beginners to the most experienced golfers. Situated very close to a wide range of accommodation options and restaurants, the course is directly linked to the La Costa Beach & Golf Resort*, the only golf resort on the Costa Brava with direct access to the sea.

Strategically located 50 minutes from Barcelona and just 15 minutes from Girona, PGA Golf Catalunya is less than two hours away from the principal European capitals offering daily flights into the international airports of Barcelona and Girona-Costa Brava.

PGA Golf Catalunya offers a total of 36 holes divided between two courses: the Stadium Course and the Tour Course, inaugurated in 1999 and 2005, respectively. From the very start, their design has enabled the courses to host important international events, such as the Spanish Open and the Sarazen World Open, among others. In addition, the resort has been the venue for Spain's leading amateur tournaments. PGA Golf Catalunya provides the best possible combination of golf thanks to the perfect balance between the Stadium Course, especially designed for the larger competitions and most demanding amateur events, and the Tour Course, with its constant challenges and spectacular holes, capable of satisfying any level of player.

This 18-hole course is varied and comprehensive. The first 9 holes are technically demanding, with narrow fairways, vegetation and water (the fifth hole is on an island green). The second stretch, which is completely flat, is characterised by wide fairways with dips.

The club also has a Hotel Relais and houses and apartments for rent within the grounds of the golf course. Ideal for mid-level players, who will find unsurpassable conditions for playing golf here. Its privileged location offers wonderful views over the Pyrenees as well as over Roses Bay.

Par 3 Gualta

Member of

Defined as a par-3 of short distances, the 18-hole Par 3 Gualta course is a golfers' delight, with bunkers, lakes and large greens. It provides a challenge for golf-ers of all levels and abilities. The advantage for beginners is the fact that they are allowed to play the course after taking only a few lessons, as handicap certificates are not required. More experienced golfers can enjoy playing these beautiful holes while practising their often neglected short game.

The course will also delight the senior players and children as it only takes a little more than two hours to play a round of 18 holes.

A warm welcome and friendly personal attention await you from our team of dedicated staff whose aim is to provide you with quality services - golf, tuition, food and drink - all at an affordable price.

Moderate variations in weather, generally with sunshine and mild, pleasant temperatures, make up the climate of this radiant, colourful region called the Costa Brava and Pirineu de Girona. This climate makes it possible to play golf all year round.

Culture

Speaking of culture in the Costa Brava and the Pirineu de Girona means going back to the dawn of civilisation. Starting our journey in the very earliest of times, we find megalithic monuments in the Albera and the Gavarres hills, prehistoric caves in Serinyà, the ancient Iberian settlement of Ullastret, and Romanesque, Gothic, Baroque and Modernist buildings in all of the itineraries. Our coast was visited and inhabited, especially for commercial purposes, by the Greeks, Carthaginians and Romans, who not only left their imprint here but built towns like Empúries, where today we can follow the footsteps of those ancient visitors. From the Middle Ages we have exceptional works of architecture like the monasteries of Sant Pere de Rodes and Ripoll, whose stones speak to us of a thousand years of life and culture.

In recent years, through the eyes of artists, especially the masterly Salvador Dalí, we have discovered a new vision of our surroundings, both cultural and scenic, portrayed in priceless creations. Today, the Dalí Triangle, consisting of the Dalí Theatre-Museum in Figueres, the Gala Dalí Castle-Museum in Púbol and the Dalí House-Museum in Portlligat, allows us to take this almost metaphysical journey through a world of tormented nature and idyllic, unique settings.

Apart from the Dalí spaces, there are over 55 museums and 550 historic buildings to admire.

From the Middle Ages we have exceptional works of architecture like the monasteries of Sant Pere de Rodes and Ripoll, whose stones speak to us of a thousand years of life and culture.

Cuisine

Girona is a unique foodie's paradise. It is the region where Ferran Adrià, with his restaurant El Bulli, and the Roca brothers reinvented the world's cuisine, and where culinary innovation continues on a stellar level at the sixteen restaurants boasting a total of twenty-one Michelin stars.

Come and discover our wines and time-honoured cuisine drawing on produce from the land and sea, which is the focus of any social occasion at restaurants, food and wine fairs and festivals throughout the region.

The Costa Brava & Girona Pyrenees is a land blessed by nature, where the mountains merge with the Mediterranean Sea and where the landscape provides a rich variety of produce all year round: DO Empordà wines and oils, rice from Pals, anchovies from L'Escala, red prawns, sea urchins, beans from Santa Pau, farmhouse cheeses and artisan charcuterie are the main protagonists at local markets and on our tables.

Each restaurant offers an excellent dining experience.
